Henry Fung – Publication Design Pioneer

The editors of FUTUREtakes do not want the excitement with our new Web look to distract us from acknowledging the outstanding contributions of our retiring volunteer graphic designer Henry Fung. Henry, the originator of our "Fungtastic" design, has retired from his day job as graphics designer with the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston after 28 years there. Henry was born and raised in Hong Kong, and he came to the U.S. in 1976 to attend college at the University of Houston. He followed this with graduate study in advertising design at Syracuse University. While at the University of Houston, Henry met his wife Susanna, also from Hong Kong. They have two daughters and reside in Houston.

Henry has been our graphics editor since 2005, and his Fungtastic design helped propel FUTUREtakes to prominence among futurists across the globe. We wish Henry the best of luck in his retirement endeavors.
